

Lilly Library YA Department presents: Vote! An Election Year Button Contest

2020 is an election year that also commemorates the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. But the struggle for full voting rights for all Americans continues to this day.

To honor this struggle, Lilly invites its Young Adult patrons (ages 12-18) to utilize the template below to design a button that speaks to any (or all) of the following:

- * The history of the struggle for voting rights
- * The lack of voting rights for children
- * The state of voting rights today
- * Encouragement to vote
- * The importance of voting
- * Other issues or thoughts about voting

Please refrain from including designs that encourage voting for any specific person, issue, or party.

Button designs will be voted on by Lilly patrons. Three designs will be chosen to go into limited production, and all three winners will receive several copies of their button for posterity (and for handing out to friends and family). The grand prize winner will also win a copy of the book One Person, No Vote by Carol Anderson.

Entries are due to
